WANG WAILS AS HE GIVES HIS SEAL TO NEW TUCHUN

Hsiao Now Occupies His Quarters In Wuchang, Waiting Wu Pei-fu

Peking Wants Firm Man In Wuhan Region To Stop Dr. Sun

WU PEI-FU IN HANKOW

(Staff Wire To The China Press)

Hankow, August 12 (8 p.m.)—Wu Pei-fu arrived in Hankow this evening and was tendered an ovation. His mission is stated to be to effect a peaceful conclusion of the fighting between Hupeh and Hunan.

(Staff Wire To The China Press)

Hankow, August 12 (1 p.m.).—Wailing bitterly and pitifully in the presence of his successor and subordinates, Wang Chan-yuan, one time super tuchun of Hupeh and Hunan, yesterday handed over charge of the Hupeh tuchunship to Hsiao Yao-nan, who came to his aid when the combined forces of the two Hu provinces mobilised to oust him.

Hsiao is now occupying Wang's spacious yamen in Wuchang under heavy armed guards.

As he quit his post, Wang asserted that he fully intended to save the nation from ruin and disorder, but was undone and made a dupe by intriguers. He is assured to have meant Chao Heng-ti, the Hunan leader, and his colleagues, who after obtaining a quantity of arms from Wang, had started the movement to oust him.

Wang further sent an ironical message to Chao in which he stated that he had been betrayed in his old age by "scheming profiteers" and advised Chao to be careful in dealing with them lest he might meet the same fate as Wang himself.

WANG TO TIENTSIN

The deposed warlord left Wuchang immediately after his handing over his seal to Hsiao, made a stay in Hankow, calling on his friends in a heavily guarded motor car, and left the port for Pukow with his third and favorite concubine on the gunboat Tsao Yi in the afternoon. He is due in Tientsin tomorrow where several members of his family have already been sent.

While most of Wang's proteges have been caught in the debacle, his aide-de-camp, Sun Chuan-fang, has gone to Wusueh with the loyal remnants and is trying to make lost strength with new recruits from among the bandits along the Hupeh-Anhui border.

It is suspected that he will affiliate with Chang Wen-sung, Tuchun of Anhui, and make a new military alliance for offensive purposes. He has telegraphically rejected the appointment as Inspecting Commissioner of the Upper Yangtsze offered to him by Peking.

Peking Wants Wu In Wuchang To Stop Sun

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, August 9.—The far-reaching character of General Wu's appointment was the subject of general discussion in Chinese circles in Peking today, and while many persons were unwilling to believe that General Wu would accept a post which would tie him to one region, it was pointed out, on the other hand, that, as Super-Tuchun on the Yangtsze, General Wu would inherit the tremendous opportunities that lay in the hand of General Wang Chan-yuan.

With its recent successes and widening ambitions, Canton is aiming at Wuchang, which is still the key to power in China, and there is no doubt that the Central Government is anxious to secure the services of a great General there.

Typhoon May Reach City During Night

The typhoon signal was hoisted at 4:40 o'clock yesterday afternoon and warning was sent out that the storm, a very violent one, might strike off the mouth of the Yangtsze before 8 a.m. today.

In consequence of the warning most of the private yachts which ordinarily lie off The Bund were moved up river to the Arsenal Creek.

Chinese rivermen, however, gave no indication of apprehension and tugs, launches, lighters and the usual smaller craft remained at their moorings off the jetties and foreshore.

The barometer fell from 758 (millimeters) to 752.1 between 11 a.m. and 4 p.m. yesterday, but from that time until midnight showed a rise. Siccawei's report of yesterday afternoon was to the effect that the typhoon would probably approach the coast between Wenchow and Hangchow Bay, inclining to the North-Northwest, a course which would bring the center to the West of Shanghai. The report warned that strong winds, or even a gale, from the Northeast quadrant, might be expected during the night.

Harding's Invitation Calls For Discussion On Pacific As Well As Disarmament

Wants Suggestions For Removal Of Causes Of Misunderstanding

Washington, August 11.—President Harding's formal invitation to the Disarmament and Far Eastern Conference has been despatched to Great Britain, France, Italy, Japan and China.

The text declares that the President is deeply gratified at the cordial response to his suggestion of a conference on the subject of the limitation of armaments, in connection with which Pacific and Far Eastern problems would be discussed. He describes the encumbrance placed on productive labor by the enormous disbursements in rivalries of armament, which are not only without economic justification but are a constant menace to the peace of the world, rather than an assurance of its preservation.

He believes the time is opportune for the Powers to approach the subject directly and in a conference at which, while the naval armaments naturally will have first place, it is thought best not to exclude questions pertaining to other armaments.

He adds that it may also be found advisable to formulate proposals whereby the use of new agencies of warfare may be suitably controlled.

After emphasising the futility of hoping to achieve a final assurance of peace without a practical effort to remove causes of misunderstanding, the invitation concludes:

"It is not the purpose of the United States to attempt to define the scope of the discussion regarding the Pacific and the Far East, which should be the subject of suggestions to be exchanged before the conference in the expectation that a spirit of friendship and cordial appreciation of the importance of the elimination of sources of controversy will govern the final decision."

The invitation fixes the date of the conference for November 11.

The communication to China does not iclude an invitation to the Disarmament Conference, but requests the Chinese Government to participate in the discussions of Pacific and Far Eastern affairs.

British Suggestions For Conference Dropped

(Reuter's Service)

London, August 11.—Reuter's Agency is informed that no further progress has been made as regards the proposed Pacific Conference, and no communication has yet been received from Washington as regards the agenda. The feeling in British official quarters is that the absence from London for any length of time of the Premier and Foreign Secretary would only be warranted if there were a guarantee that the Conference would deal with practical issues.

It appears that a number of suggestions emanated from Great Britain with a view to facilitating the work of the Conference, but these have been dropped in deference to an expression of official opinion from the United States, with which the initiative now rests. It is understood that, whatever date may be fixed for the Conference, it will be sufficiently far ahead to permit of a consultation between Mr. Lloyd George and the Dominions Premiers.

Dutch Want Seat As One Of Asiatic Powers

The Hague, August 11.—Replying to a question in the Second Chamber, the Foreign Minister declared that he did not know whether formal invitations to the Washington Conference had yet been issued, but the matter was receiving the attention of the Government, in view of the position of the Netherlands as one of the Asiatic Powers.

Japan Urges America To Join The League

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Tokio, August 11.—The League of Nations Association of Japan, defining its attitude towards President Harding's armament conference, publishes the following resolution adopted by the Executive Committee:

"While armament reduction is one of the most important objects obtainable through the League of Nations, its practical realisation is rendered most difficult so long as a great Power like America remains outside the League. The proposition which emanates from America for the holding of a conference with a view to promoting the establishment of a durable peace is particularly gratifying, since undoubtedly it marks a step forward in the right direction. The League of Nations Association of Japan therefore ventures to hope that branches of the League of Nations Association in various countries will use every means to bring about a reduction of armaments.

"The League of Nations Association of Japan earnestly desires the establishment of, as complete as possible an understanding between the Powers concerned regarding problems of the Pacific and the Far East to be presented for deliberation with the question of a reduction of armaments. We are of the opinion that the utmost care should be taken in the selection of questions for discussion, so as to prevent matters already settled by international compacts from being submitted for deliberation. The discussion of such matters would only lead to international discord.

"The existence of a strong international organisation is a condition requisite for the success of any scheme for a reduction of armaments and measures aiming at the maintenance of a durable peace. This Association is of the opinion that the move at present promoted by America presents an excellent opportunity for the Powers already associated in the League to make the best endeavors to persuade America to become a member."

Alarmist Forecast By French Not Bourne Out Say British

Cabinet Meets Today To Consider Reply Of De Valera

(Reuter's Service)

London, August 11.—In the House of Commons today Mr. Chamberlain announced that he had received Mr. de Valera's reply regarding the Government's proposals for an Irish Settlement, and this had been transmitted to Mr. Lloyd George. He hoped that the latter would be able to make a statement on Ireland either on Tuesday or Wednesday.

The Sinn Fein authorities in Dublin announce that the Irish representatives in Paris, Rome and Washington have been recalled in order to attend the coming meeting of Dail Eireann. The British Government has undertaken to issue passports to facilitate their journey.

Paris, August 11.—Owing to the nature of Mr. de Valera's reply, Mr. Lloyd George is returning to London tomorrow. The other members of the British delegation are remaining in Paris.

A French source declares Mr. Lloyd George has received grave news as regards the negotiations with Ireland and that the Sinn Fein reply envisages the breaking off of the negotiations.

According to a British source of information a Cabinet meeting will be held on Saturday to consider Mr. de Valera's reply.

London, August 11.—Enquiries in London by Reuter's Agency do not support the French alarmist forecast of the Irish reply. In well-informed circles it is stated that the communication is in the nature of a continuation of the informal talks with Mr. Lloyd George, naturally inviting a reply and tending to the continuance of the negotiations, which the latest development in the situation does not jeopardise.

In the meanwhile it seems significant that Messrs. Barton McGrath and O'Brien have again occupied the suite of rooms in the Grosvenor Hotel, London, which were taken by the Sinn Feiners during Mr. de Valera's recent visit. Mr. McGrath states that the length of their stay is indefinite.

'Hideous Spectacle' Says Tonkin Paper Of Banque

We are in the midst of financial banditism. It was with these words that we terminated our article two days ago on the present situation in the Banque Industrielle de Chine, writes M. D. in L'Avenir de Tonkin.

We are sure our words will be echoed in the Chamber of Deputies. Explanations will underline their meaning, and no doubt even more quickly than in the Panama scandal the country will grasp the significance of one of the most hideous spectacles that can be imagined: that of two rival financial groups meeting in a death struggle over our body with no concern for the French savings sacrificed, for the public weal, nor for our national interests and influence in the Far East.

There is a dead body in the house, as we have already said. But the death was not natural. The scandal is assuming such proportions that it will engulf all those who attempt to dam or conceal it. To unite our French consciences in a protest of horror at such practices is a great work of patriotism.

Instead of a domesticated state influenced disproportionately by financial interests we would like to see the state assured of its

WOOD WILLING TO GOVERN THE ISLANDS AGAIN

(Reuter's Service)

Washington, August 11.—General Leonard Wood has expressed his willingness to accept the offer of the Governorship of the Philippines.

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Manila, August 2.—The Wood-Forbes Mission, which is now on its inspection tour of the Moro provinces of the Philippines, will spend one or two days in British North Borneo. The party plans to visit Sandakan about August 19, returning thence to Jolo. The object of the call at Sandakan has not been divulged, but it is believed to have some connection with the religious control of the Sultan of Sulu over the Mohammedans of North Borneo.

At Antigue, where the Mission stopped soon after leaving Manila, Filipino speakers of the Nacionalista party urged General Wood to accept the governorship of the islands, which it is understood is likely to be offered to him by President Harding.

Justice E. Finley Johnson of the Philippine Supreme Court, who is mentioned in press despatches from Washington as a possible governor-general, states that he will not accept the office if offered to him. Justice Johnson is the senior Justice of the Court, having been appointed to a judgeship by President McKinley.

It is understood here that the Mission has recommended his appointment as Chief Justice, which would be a departure from precedent, the Chief Justice having always been a Filipino, although the Court has had an American majority.

REPORT REDS TO HAVE LOST; NOW ABANDON CHITA

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Vladivostok, August 12.—A report, which lacks confirmation, has been received here to the effect that the Reds have been driven out of Chita by anti-Bolshevik Partisans and are retreating along the railway to Verkne-Udinsk, hoping to join up with the Irkutsk garrison.

The military stores at Chita are partially destroyed. M. Krasnoschekov with his government has fled to Dauria by aeroplanes.

Many Communists, the report continues, were burned alive in wooden buildings when Chita was captured.

The above Reuter message regarding the capture of Chita was shown Commercial Attache B. P. Torgasheff of the Far Eastern Republic, now in Shanghai and to Mr. M. I. Baranovsky, Manager of the Shanghai office of the Dalta News Agency. Both characterised it as absurd and Mr. Baranovsky added further that it carried full evidence of its untruth as follows:

M. Krasnochekov, depicted as fleeing by aeroplane to Dauria, left Chita two weeks ago for Moscow.

Two days ago, the Dalta News Agency received its usual telegraphic report from Chita when all was quiet. There is no telegraph operating between Chita and Vladivostok at present and it is eight days by train.

Furthermore, an American official is now conferring with Manager Ostrumoff of the Chinese Eastern Railway and Mr. Shatoff, head of the railways of the Far Eastern Republic at Manchuli. How the news could have gone from Chita to Vladivostok without their knowledge, is beyond the understanding of the two gentlemen now in Shanghai representing the Chita Government.

DEADLOCK ON SILESIA IS UNBROKEN; IS REFERRED TO LEAGUE OF NATIONS

Suspense Is Ended By Announcement Equivalent To Statement Of Disagreement Between French And British Delegation Over Industrial Area—Franco-Polish Agreements Cited By Millerand

NOT ONE BUT 16 INSEPARABLE ZONES

Details Of Line Proposed By Lloyd George Not Yet Available, But French State It Would Give Germany All But Mines And Zinc Plants

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, August 12.—The Silesian question has been referred to the League of Nations.

Paris, August 12.—Yesterday was characterised by rumor and suspense, the only certainty emerging being that serious discussions are progressing and that a long morning conference between M. Briand and Mr. Lloyd George ended without result.

The burden of the rumor was that a deadlock had been reached, with a suggestion that M. Briand's disposition to the compromise provoked from M. Millerand a reminder of the existence of certain Franco-Polish agreements.

16 UNIT ZONES

The experts' report defined 16 inseparable zones, ten purely Polish and six German, the latter including the large towns of Beuthen, Kattowitz, Gleiwitz, Zaborze and Koenigshuette.

The details of Mr. Lloyd George's proposed line is not yet available, but it is stated in French circles that it would assign to Germany practically the whole industrial triangle, and to Poland the towns of Kokolowitz, Schoenwald and Nyslowitz with their mines and zinc factories.

Later—The Silesian question has been referred to the League of Nations.

Council Now Must Piece Up The Puzzle

Paris, August 11.—Mr. Lloyd George and Lord Curzon entertained M. Briand and M. Loucheur at breakfast at their hotel this morning, the party developing into a more or less informal conference. Subsequently the Premiers motored to Rambouillet, where they were the guests of President Millerand at luncheon.

The meeting of the Supreme Council which had been fixed for this afternoon was adjourned. The experts have finished their report on Upper Silesia. According to a French source, the report splits the industrial triangle into factions, it being deemed impossible to divide the large towns. It leaves to the Supreme Council the task of piecing the fractions together and fixing the frontier. Apparently the French and British standpoints are again in conflict.

HOPEFUL TO END

Paris, August 11.—Today Mr. Lloyd George had a further conference with M. Briand as regards Upper Silesia. This lasted until seven o'clock in the evening, after which M. Briand declared that no agreement had been reached but that he would continue hopeful to the end. Mr. Lloyd George will see M. Briand tomorrow before his departure for London.

The British Prime Minister has proposed a new demarcation line for the German-Polish frontier which M. Briand has submitted to his experts.

'Don't Kill Cow, Milk It,' He Advises France

Paris, August 11.—If the French papers are to be believed, the proceedings of the Supreme Council have at times been very lively. The Matin says Lord Curzon and Marquis della Torretta demanded the ending of the Allied military control in Germany. M. Briand retorted that, with the League of Nations scarcely organised, the abandonment of control would be premature. He asserted that clandestine deports of arms had been discovered recently, also wagons loaded with material destined for Silesia.

Marshal Foch declared that Germany had not merely retained some of her military aeroplanes but had built new ones.

Mr. Lloyd George intervened with a conciliatory speech, arguing that it was more sensible to milk the cow than to cut it up into beefsteaks. M. Briand replied that all he asked was "that the cow shall not turn its horns in our direction."

Other Questions Take Council's Attention

(French Wireless through Reuter)

Paris, August 11.—At its sitting on Wednesday afternoon, the Supreme Council first discussed the question of controlling aviation, and asked the Inter-Allied Military Commission at Versailles to report to the Allied Governments on the points raised during the discussion.

M. Briand, after recalling the support which Russia gave to the Allies in the first years of the war, dwelt in eloquent terms on the need for associating the Allied Governments with the American effort for bringing relief to the famine-stricken population of that country. Mr. Lloyd George emphasised the difficulties in the way of undertaking relief, and the necessity for guarding against the spread of epidemics.

Signor Bonomi, the Italian Premier, declared that to assist Russia was not only a duty of gratitude, as M. Briand had said, or a question of personal interest, as Mr. Lloyd George averred, but a measure specially appropriate to show to that section of European public opinion which regard the Bolshevist regime as a sort of earthly paradise, that, so far from this being the case, Russia had been reduced to such a state of destitution that it had become necessary for all the civilised governments to step in to save her.

SUGGESTS COMMITTEE

Colonel George Harvey, the American representative, and M. Jaspar, the Belgian delegate, who had only arrived in Paris that morning, suggested the formation of an international relief committee, which solution was adopted.

As regards the Upper Silesian question, Wednesday was a day of preparation and waiting. The experts to whom the matter had been referred began their labors at the Quai d'Orsay at eight o'clock in the morning. They were assisted by the Allied High Commissioners at Oppeln and by M. Loucheur, the French Minister of Liberated Regions, who took a prominent part in the deliberations.

The Petit Parisien points out that their task consisted in dividing up the industrial triangle, previously regarded as indivisible, and in defining in the interior of Upper Silesia a certain number of economically-separable zones. This journal understands that they were able to demarcate 16 such areas, thereby facilitating the fixing of the Ger-

300 Germans Take Arms And Captives From 15 British

Official Report Of Silesian Affair For Which Apology Now Has Been Made

(Reuter's Service)

London, August 11.—The following is the official version of the affair in Upper Silesia in which British troops were involved.

A detachment of 15 British soldiers accompanied the French district controller on the 7th instant in searching for arms, reported to be hidden at Botzanowitz. They were attacked, fired on and surrounded by 300 Germans, and under threat of death the British soldiers surrendered the arms and prisoners they had seized.

The German Plenipotentiary for Upper Silesia has called on the British Commissioner and apologised on behalf of the German Government and the law-abiding Silesian Germans for this "unprovoked attack on British troops executing their lawful duty." Otherwise the position in Upper Silesia is quiet.

Banque Prosperous Say Inspectors From China

sovereignty and powers over financial interests.

It appears that the assassination, which was expected to be successful, failed in its purpose. The overlords of finance, now that their aims have been frustrated are seeking to establish alibis. They come forward to swear to the purity of their good intentions, but it is too late, the facts are established.

HOW IT HAPPENED

Roughly, this is what happened in Paris last April. At that time the Banque de Paris et des Pays-Bas, which had assisted the Banque Industrielle de Chine since February, was becoming discouraged. Cable reports from Messrs. Lion and Honnequin, inspectors on a mission to the Far East, testified to a prosperous condition in the agencies of the Banque Industrielle de Chine.

The Banque de Paris et des Pays-Bas took note of the favorable reports, but it was found that to continue the business in hand money would have to be advanced to the extent of 150,000,000 francs. The Peking government was willing to subscribe this sum, or rather to put in circulation bonds equal to that amount in value, for which it assumed the responsibility. As the affair was urgent it was found necessary to have the bonds recognised by the French Minister of Finance. And thus in an indirect manner the French goverment gave its guarantee to the bonds.

Considering the attitude of the Chinese government the French Minister of Finance undertook an engagement to facilitate later a loan to China of 300,000,000 francs. On June 10, note the date, everything was settled for this arrangement.

And this was the moment for the Wreckers to begin their work. Their object was to ruin the Banque Industrielle de Chine, and the hour was ripe for execution. What did it matter to them that the victims would be multiple, savings lost, and the nation threatened with disaster? Does not a wolf always behave like a wolf?

WRECKERS AT WORK

The Wreckers began to disturb heaven and earth. First they alarmed the inspectors of finance, and then frightened the heads of the ministerial staffs. M. Doumer was surrounded by individuals shrieking of irregularities, and some even mentioned the word "forfeiture." Let one imprudence be committed, and everything goes down in the most characteristic treason of the interests of France. What adventures will they not risk?

M. Doumer was shaken, and when Premier Briand was firm he tendered his resignation. His successor, M. Sarraut, was likewise alarmed at the state of affairs, and then all was over with the Banque Industrielle de Chine.

And we are ashamed to have to say that the final blow to hasten the ruin was struck by hired figureheads.

In a few days the French press will reveal in all its details the scandal touching high personages, of which we are able to give only the broad outlines.

The Chamber of the National Bloc, in formally declaring that the Banque Industrielle de Chine must be saved upset the calculations of the Wreckers.

BANK WILL RECOVER

Nevertheless the evil committed is very great, and the peril involved greater still. The bank has had a narrow escape. Will it take a long time to recover confidence and credit? At first we thought so. But upon reflection we are inclined to believe that the very enormity of the scandal favors a recovery of the Banque Industrielle de Chine. In France we go spontaneously to the relief of the victims. After all the details of the failure of the assassins to accomplish their purpose are known the effect of the scandal will be overcome.

We could felicite ourselves in the Far East for having adopted the only attitude which could possibly influence the government. Aged counsellors cautioned us to be silent! While our throats were being cut were we to refrain from crying out?

We raised the alarm, and the government realised it was not the moment to hold back in another "splendid isolation." Silence would have been complicity with the murder. The financial sacrifice which the recovery of the bank will entail could well have been dispensed with.

The Wreckers would have shouted: "Let it go, let fall that which is going to fall. Avoid at any price the establishment of a precedent that a private enterprise should be given assistance. No one asks you to make such an effort; keep your millions safe. You have no right to dispose of your money in this affair, which is not yours any way!" And with another twist of the screw the Banque Industrielle de Chine would have been defunct, and all our deposits lost.

But we were not silent. We did cry out. It is our duty. We will always cry out when the general interest and national honor are at stake. The Avenir has no other raison d'etre. The public has already seen it at work in the campaign against the stabilisation of the dollar.

CARDINAL'S AID ASKED

M. Briand, in his stand before the Chamber of Deputies, is well supported by the numerous telegrams sent him from the Far East urging him to employ all possible measures to save the bank. Many steps have been initiated to that end. While we were obtaining the five hundred signatures to our cablegram sent to General Castelnau all that was loyal in China united to preserve the honor of France by saving the Banque Industrielle. Chambers of commerce, merchant hongs, Jesuits, Lazaristes, foreign missions, and other bodies cabled the Cardinal, Archbishop of Paris, entreating him to use his influence with the President of the Republic, the Council, and the Ministry of Foreign Affairs, to save the situation in the bank, and ward off the threat to French interests in the Far East.

To this cablegram there came the following response: "Paris, July 6, Cardinal makes effort demanded. Hope deposits will be saved."

Other dispatches in similar terms followed. They honor the senders. And we cannot help manifesting our joy that we have been the humble instrument chosen by the public to voice the protests of Indo-China, and the small depositors of Tonkin. We thank our readers for their hearty assistance.

Mixed Court Jottings

Embezzlement of $500,000 from the Fu Tien Bank of Yunnan is alleged in an action filed in the Mixed Court against one Kyu Iong-kya, alias Kya Yen-san, formerly manager of the Hongkong branch of the institution. The action was filed by Mr. L. K. Kentwell on behalf of Lieu Tshing-li, local representative of the bank, and a summons for immediate security is asked against the defendant, together with judgment in the amount claimed. The petition sets forth that the alleged embezzlement occurred between April 1, 1914 and March 30, 1920 and declares that Kya fled to Shanghai on the 10th of last month.

A fine of $1,000, with the alternative of sentence to six months' imprisonment, was imposed yesterday by Assessor Blackburn and Magistrate Li upon a broker charged with keeping opium for sale at 496-9 Thibet Road. It was shown by the police that in the last three months $32,000 worth of the drug had been sold from the establishment. An assistant was fined $100, or one month's imprisonment. The place was raided, according to testimony by Chief Detective Inspector Eek, on July 28, after a Chinese had been sent to make a $9 purchase of opium. When the police surrounded the house a basket was thrown from an upstairs window and was found to contain ten and a half pounds of opium. A ball of the stuff was found inside, together with smoking paraphernalia, and account books seized showed entries aggregating $32,000 for the 83 days preceding the raid. The shop averaged about $390 in sales per day. Both accused denied any connection with the opium business, endeavoring to shift the blame to other occupants of the house.

Another long session was devoted yesterday to the case in which a Russian machinist named Aun, employed on the steamer Erivan is charged with insubordination and the theft of two barrels of salt salmon. The case is being heard by Assessor Ivanoff and Magistrate Loh and Mr. L. Hartigan appears for the defendant. In the witness box yesterday the latter declared that he was instructed to sell the fish by a member of the crew, it being the practise of the sailors to purchase fish in the North for sale here. The hearing was adjourned until next Friday.

A shop assistant, arrested when police raided No. 70 Pakhoi Road and seized 400 small tins of opium, was fined $100 yesterday.

When Sub-Inspector Moore, in charge of brothel supervision, inspected a resort at 115 Swatow Road Thursday to inquire about the presence of a twelve-year-old girl, an amah connected with the establishment slipped $100 in notes into his pocket, laid a further $45 on a table and requested him to forget the matter. She was fined $25 in the Mixed Court yesterday and the license of the place was assessed a like sum, the $145 being ordered confiscated. The girl testified that she had come to Shanghai on a visit from Dzangzok and had been taken to the brothel and mortgaged for $400 by one of the accused. The child was ordered taken to the Door of Hope pending application by her parents for her return.

Smiles from the Mixed Court

If Waung Fok had been a New Yorker of ordinary lunch counter training things might have been otherwise.

Waung was one of three who entered Sun Zung-foo's silk shop at 335 Hankow Road a day or so ago, the others being Zung and Tsung Yoong. The latter expressed a desire to purchase a small quantity of silk and a clerk displayed samples which Tsung viewed without enthusiasm. The obliging salesman turned to bring forth other patterns and as he did so let an oblique glance fall upon Waung Fok at precisely the instant in which this worthy happened to be tucking an entire roll of first quality material beneath his jacket. The clerk yelled a warning which brought an avalanche of the store's employes upon Zung and Tsung and started the surplusage loudly off in the wake of Waung, who had slipped through the door.

Waung was brought to earth in orthodox American rugby style a square down the street, but when searched was found innocent of silk. At the police station a more thorough examination was made and among the things turned out of Waung's costume was a lodging house ticket. The production of this apparently inconsequent item reacted on the prisoner, who heretofore had taken small interest in the proceedings, like a prod with a pin. Making a wild lunge, he snatched the bit of paper from the foreign sergeant's hand, tore it in two, stuffed the fragments into his mouth and began chewing industriously. It was the delay caused by this deteching process, which brought the trio to grief, for before Waung could swallow the paper the sergeant had cut off communications with his oesophagus and made him disgorge the morsel.

Pieced together the ticket was found to have been issued by a hostelry in Canton Road and the three captives were placed in storage while detectives visited the address. There, in the room specified on the coupon, they found the missing roll of silk, another roll—later identified as his property by a silk merchant at 70 Hankow Road—a quantity of ginseng belonging to the Sincere Company, and Shen Dong. Shen Dong, it appeared, had been stationed outside the door of the silk shop and took charge of the silk when Waung passed out.

The police also found four boat tickets to Hongkong, but by reason of certain formalities in the Mixed Court yesterday the purchasers will not be availing themselves of the transportation until about December 12. At that time they will be officially urged to travel.

Liner Ecuador Bids Farewell To Port Today

The Pacific Mail liner Ecuador, which has been on the run from San Francisco to the Far East for the past five years, will say farewell to the port of Shanghai when it sails this afternoon, as it is making its final trans-Pacific voyage and after arriving in San Francisco it will be placed on a run between San Francisco and Baltimore on which it has been preceded by the Venezuela. The sister ships Ecuador, Venezuela and Colombia all are being replaced by the new Shipping Board passenger ships.

Included in the cargo that the Ecuador took out of Manila were more than two and a half million cigars, nearly a million and a half kilos of raw sugar, 76,000 board feet of Philippine lumber, 200,000 kilos of copra cake and several hundred bales of leaf tobacco. Most of the lumber and the cigars are being taken to the United States while the raw sugar is for China.

Movement Is On To Oust Lu Yung-hsiang

A report from Mr. Shen Ching-kiao, Civil Governor of Chekiang, to the Peking Government indicates that serious development is expected in Chekiang situation as a result of Tuchun Lu Yung-hsiang's bold movement for self-government and independence.

Lu is now caught in a debacle as the result of Wang Chan-yuan's downfall in Hupeh. Following his independence from Peking, Lu relied on Wang for assistance because he had concluded an alliance with the Hupeh warlord. To carry out his so-called self-government movement, he had gathered in Hangchow a large number of undesirable politicians and engendered the opposition of the people by the abolition of the election of the provincial assembly.

The result is not only Peking is after his scalp, but the people of Chekiang is instituting a movement to oust him, according to the latest reports from Hangchow.

SUPER-DURABLE FLAT PAINT
FLAT WALL FINISH
A perfect Paint of smooth surface for Interior Wall Coating

The surface obtainable with this paint is smooth and flat, i.e., it is not a grainy, dead, lifeless finish, but of a velvety texture. It dries in a reasonably quick time, so that work can be carried out effectively, yet has the property of remaining open long enough to enable the worker to cover a large surface of wall without making laps or edges.
Excellent results with Super Durable Flat Finish are easily obtained, irrespective of the skill of the user, and an elaborate preparation of the surface is usually quite unnecessary.
Super Durable Flat Finish has been tried on non-absorbent surfaces of all kinds and where distemper and oil paint have proved prone to shell or flake off, it has always adhered. It gives a lasting finish of surprising beauty.
1 Imperial Gallon covers about 130 square yards one coat.

WETTEST YEAR MAY BRING ON GREAT FAMINE

(China Press Correspondence)

Haichow, Ku., August 1.—The rainfall in this section for this season has been from two to three times the normal amount. The people of the villages around here say that it has rained more in the last three weeks than it usually rains during the whole summer, even in wet years. West of here the rains have been heavier than in this immediate neighborhood.

Added to the heavy rains, the floods have come down from north and it looks as if the beans and corn and potatoes will be almost a total loss. Most of the fruit has been ruined by the excessive humidity. Unless the rains stop very soon, famine conditions will be almost certain to prevail over a large area here in Northeast Kiangsu and Southeast Shantung.

It is very evident that the floods north of here, extending over the Shantung border, are very heavy, because even before the heavy rains started here, the floods from the north came down. About seventy li southwest of here in a low-lying territory, the water covered the country to a depth of two feet when the sky was practically clear overhead. A little later, when local rains were added to the flood coming from the north, the people of that section had to abandon their houses and seek higher ground.

All this northeast section of Kiangsu has had wonderful wheat crops for some years. This year it has been a granary, the source of supply of food for much of the famine district in Shantung; now the prospect is just the reverse, for if the bean and potato crop is lost, famine will result.

WHEAT SENT AWAY

The wheat crop was very good, but as all the crop from last year's fine harvest has been shipped either to the famine district in the north, or to Japan, or used up locally, this year's harvest of wheat will not begin to tide over to the next harvest without the help of a good crop of beans and corn and potatoes. The beans and potatoes have sufferred not only from the heavy rains but also from a plague of insects very much like locusts. These have come in in great droves, sweeping clean the leaves from trees and plants. So far practically no fruit has come in from the west country, and it is probable that there will be very little fruit on account of the high water and the insect pest.

So far there has been no epidemic of cholera in this immediate section. However, a number of cases of cholera and cholera morbus coming in from the southwest and northeast indicate the presence of the disease not far away. Dysentery and similar diseases, diphtheria and scarlet fever have taken a heavy toll of lives during the late spring and the summer months. The entire absence of all sanitary arrangements makes the spread of these diseases when once started, rapid.

Philippines Have Timber Enough For Needs Of East

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Manila, August 5.—The Philippines have sufficient timber to provide for the needs of most of the Far East, according to Major-General Leonard Wood, who recently commented on the forest resources of the islands as follows:

"Few people appreciate the enormous resources of the islands in the way of lumber; much of it lumber of the most valuable kind. In the Philippines there is lumber to take care of most of the lumber industry in the Far East; nearly 230,000,000 feet of it were cut in 1920, of which in the neighborhood of 15,000,000 feet were exported.

"In ordinary years there ought to be an enormous amount available for export. Now is the time to initiate those wise forestry measures which would insure the replacement of trees cut."

Ungern's Way Of Treating Victims Graphically Told

How Baron Ungern dealt with the victims of the pogrom terror is related by a Shanghai resident who was a witness of the ghastly events that characterised his brief rule. Besides ruling his rabble soldiery with Russian discipline of the old school—a case is mentioned of 300 lashes—Ungern subjected his victims to medieval torture and insulted and taunted them in their sufferings.

The right-hand man of Ungern, a brutal anti-Semite, of unlimited power during the short space of Ungern's career, Colonel Sipylo, appeared one day in "court" for the trial of a number of arrested Jews. He selected one of the men under arrest, and said:

You others should know that this Jew has given information against you. He has accused you of being engaged in Bolshevik propaganda. However, I know that he is a liar!

He should be taught a lesson. Here, take these sticks and let him have his just punishment.

The others, reluctant to beat the man, whom they knew to be innocent, were nevertheless forced to afford amusement to the doughty Colonel.

"If you take pity on him", he would threaten; "I'll execute the lot of you."

This continued till the victim had been beaten unmercifully. Then the Colonel said:

"Here you dogs, have you no heart? Well, now its your turn."

Whereupon the victim was induced to maul those who had been punishing him a moment before.

A Mongolian Prince offered refuge in his home to a party of thirteen Jews, among whom were several women; but they were dragged from their hiding-place, beaten, and left in a prison without food or care.

The names are given of Mrs. Sheyneman, wife of the Chairman of Municipal Council in Urga, two women named Lazovsky and two named Gazowsky.

Finally in a state of starvation they were brought out and executed with the exception of Mrs. Sheyneman who under the strain had lost her mind and had died.

Blonde Lady's Spy Escapes Prison By Rope Ladder

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, August 11.—Paul Coursier, who was sentenced by court martial a fortnight ago to ten years' imprisonment as a spy employed by the notorious "Blonde lady" and for denouncing compatriots to the Germans, has escaped from the military prison at Lille with two other convicted spies by means of duplicated keys and a rope ladder. Their flight was unobserved and they are believed to have reached Belgian territory.

Mr. N. T. Yang Given Italian Decoration

The many friends of Mr. N. T. Yang, the popular secretary of the Bureau of Foreign Affairs, will be glad to learn that he has been created a Chevalier of the Crown of the King of Italy in recognition of his services in promoting the cordial relationship between China and Italy.

The conferring of the decoration was announced in a letter addressed by the Italian Consul-General to Mr. C. F. Hsu, the local Special Commissioner of Foreign Affairs.

Silesia Question Goes Before League Of Nations

The various delegations present at the Supreme Council today arrived at a decisive turning-point. The commission comprising the Allied High Commissioners and experts concluded its report on Upper Silesia this morning. As is already known, the theory previously held by the British delegates was that the industrial triangle should be regarded as indivisible and allocated to Germany, whereas the French view was that it should be divided between Germany and Poland, and the experts have come to the conclusion that a division is feasible.

MEET WITH RESULT

Both the political and economic aspects of the question were broached by Mr. Lloyd George and Lord Curzon in a discussion with M. Briand and M. Loucheur, whom they invited to breakfast at their hotel this morning. The conversation lasted for two hours without producing any appreciable results. The respective British and French points of view were found to be antagonistic.

Whereas the French representatives were disposed to fix the frontier according to the "Sforza line" with some modifications, the British Ministers adhered resolutely to the original line, which assigned the whole industrial basin to Germany. The party dispersed without any arrangement having been effected.

The discussion among the British, French and Italian Premiers will be resumed this afternoon, but the sitting of the Supreme Council, which had been fixed for five o'clock this afternoon was adjourned until an agreement on principle can be come to.

There is, however, no reason for adopting pessimistic inferences from the present situation, because the negotiations at previous conferences have frequently come to a similar pass, and have generally been followed by a settlement by compromise.

DR. SUN'S PARTY ON TOP; WOMAN VOTER ELECTED

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Canton, August 9.—Politically, the Kuomintang, or the Nationalist Party, with Dr. Sun Yat-sen as the leader, has secured control of the districts through its recent success in the election. All the district Assembly candidates of the party were returned.

The number of voters and the enthusiasm shown were, however, not encouraging.

The demand of women to vote in the districts was not opposed, and one Miss Wong Pei-wun captured a seat in the district Assembly of Heungshan.

Wang Wails As He Hands Over Seals

declined to accept the Inspector-Generalship of Hupeh and Hunan.

General Wu is reported to be heading another movement aimed at the reformation of the entire governmental system in China. A circular telegram is about to be issued by him shortly, reports say. It will be remembered that following his victory over the Anfuites, he proposed the calling of a National Constitutional Convention for the solution of all internal problems, but the movement died a hard death as the result of the strenuous opposition of the Manchurian warlord, Chang Tso-lin.

The new movement is expected to be planned along the same lines as the one originally advocated by the Chihli leader, that is, the organisation of a convention consisting of educational, agricultural and industrial representatives to enact a constitution and devise means of unifying the country.

FOUR PEACE DEMANDS

General Chiang Tso-ping, commander-in-chief of the joint Hupeh and Hunan forces invading Hupeh, has made four demands on Hsiao Yao-nan as terms of peace. They are:

1. The establishment of self-government in Hupeh,
2. The stationing of all invading forces in Hupeh,
3. The abolition of all bureaus not in accord with the principle of self-government and
4. The disarmament of Tuchun Wang Chan-yuan's troops.

Following a general discussion of the terms, the combined Hupeh and Hunan forces have been asked to send a representative to Paotingfu for the purpose of discussing peace and reorganisation of the two Hu provinces.

Two delegates sent to Shanghai by Chao Heng-ti, of Hunan, to explain Hunan's position in the present upper Yangtsze crisis, entertained a number of local Chinese journalists at dinner at the Oriental Hotel Thursday night. They stated that Hunan's movement upon Hupeh did not indicate that the military was being used as a tool or that there was any split among Hunan officials, but that it was undertaken because of the unlawful acts of Wang Chan-yuan and his repression of the people of Hupeh. The Hunan troops could not now be withdrawn, they declared, because Hunan does not trust Hsiao Yao-nan, the new tuchun.

Hupeh soldiers at Yen Ning mutinied on August 9 and have departed in various directions, according to the Chinese press, and the troops at Wusueh are reported to be making trouble.

A Hankow wire to local Chinese papers reports that Tuchun Wang Chan-yuan's family is expected in Shanghai today.

After remarking that Wang Chan-yuan owns 20,000 mow of property in his native place, most of the land in Kwan Dou Hsien and has deposits amounting to $4,000,000 in foreign banks in Hankow, The Eastern Times asks of the ex-Tuchun, "why not come to Shanghai, buy an armored motor car like Chang Tso-lin's and enjoy a few rides to Jessfield or Kiangwan?"

Wang Hands Over His Seal To New Tuchun

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Hankow, August 11.—General Wang Chan-yuan handed over his seals of office at 10 o'clock this morning, and is reported to have left for Pukow.

Movements of troops on a large scale are still proceeding.

General Wu Pei-fu has not yet arrived here, and is reported to have been delayed by floods on the Peking-Hankow railway. All is very quiet at Hankow—at least on the surface. The mails are heavily delayed, and this is attributed to the floods on the railway.

The river at Hankow is at present very high, and is overflowing part of the Bund.

PRINCE AT COLOMBO

Colombo, August 12.—The Japanese Crown Prince and the Governor attended the Colombo Races this afternoon. The Prince sails at 8 p.m. this evening.

CASTORIA
for Infants and Children.
Save the Babies.

INFANT MORTALITY is something frightful. We can hardly realize that of all the children born in civilized countries, twenty-two per cent, or nearly one-quarter, die before they reach one year; thirty-seven per cent, or more than one-third, before they are five, and one-half before they are fifteen!

We do not hesitate to say that a timely use of Castoria would save a majority of these precious lives. Neither do we hesitate to say that many of these infantile deaths are occasioned by the use of narcotic preparations. Drops, tinctures and soothing syrups sold for children's complaints contain more or less opium, or morphine. They are, in considerable quantities, deadly poisons. In any quantity, they stupefy and retard circulation and lead to congestions, sickness, death. Castoria operates exactly the reverse. It causes the blood to circulate properly, opens the pores of the skin and allays fever.

The signature of Chas. H. Fletcher guarantees genuine Castoria

Physicians Recommend Castoria.

"I have used your Castoria in cases of colic in children and have found it the best medicine of its kind on the market."
J. E. SIMPSON, M. D., Chicago, Ill.

"A medicine so valuable and beneficial for children as your Castoria is deserves the highest praise. I find it in use everywhere."
J. S. ALEXANDER, M. D., Omaha, Neb.

"Have used your Castoria on various occasions in suitable cases and have found it a palatable and efficient laxative, especially in the various diseases of childhood."
CHAS. EDWARD GARDINER, M. D., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Castoria is good for children and I frequently prescribe it, and always obtain the desired result."
F. GERALD BLATTNER, M. D., Buffalo, N. Y.

"I have prescribed Castoria to families for several years. It is all right. Mothers like it, for children will take it without any trouble."
C. A. WILSON, M. D., St. Louis, Mo.

"Your Castoria is a splendid remedy for children, known the world over. I use it in my practice and have no hesitancy in recommending it for the complaints of infants and children."

RICE DOUBLES PRICE IN YEAR; MANY SUFFER

Serious Situation Caused By Troops At Hankow Met By Commerce Body

(China Press Correspondence)

Hankow, August 8.—The rice situation in Hankow has now reached a high pitch of seriousness. The price of the best grade—which is no better than the medium grade rice of a year ago—is selling up to $11.60 a picul, the highest price in the history of Hankow. About a year ago rice of this quality was sold only for about 8-9,000 cash or about $5.50, but after a few wild fluctuations the price of rice has gone to more than double its normal figure. Today the poorest grade of rice cannot be obtained for less than $8.00 a picul.

The prohibitive price of rice, the principal food-stuff of the Chinese people, coupled with a limited supply owing to flood disasters in rice-producing districts and the increased daily consumption of rice in the Wuhan cities due to the presence of so many troops from northern provinces, which aggregate some 50,000, is a serious factor in Chinese life, and is a source of the great discontent among Chinese working men and wage-earners.

The Hankow Chamber of Commerce with a view to easing the situation, with rice dealers threatening to close their shops and rice rioters threatening to raid rice-shops which are charged with holding large stocks for profiteering, resolved at a general meeting last week to advance $100,000 with which to buy rice direct from Wuhu.

The rice dealers also have sent out agents to the country to buy from farmers as many piculs as they are willing to spare out of the new rice crop they are harvesting.

41 COUNTRIES RATIFY INT'L. JUSTICE COURT

(Reuter's Service)

London, Aug. 10.—In behalf of Great Britain and the British Dominions and India, a batch of six ratifications of the scheme for an International Court of Justice has been deposited with the League of Nations, making thirteen ratifications already lodged while several others are in various stages of completion.

Forty-one countries have signed the statute of the Court. It now seems practically certain that the twenty-four ratifications necessary to establish the International Court will be received before September, and the second assembly of the League will therefore be able to elect judges and formally constitute the Court. The nomination of judges is progressing. Among famous jurists the names hitherto received are Mr. Elihu Root, nominated by Brazil; Dr. Roscoe Pound, of Harvard, by Siam; M. Poincare, by Portugal, and Lord Finlay, by Chihli.

GOOD BANDITS KINDLY SLAY ONE ANOTHER

(China Press Correspondence)

Haichow, Ku., August 1.—The condition of the country so far as bandits is concerned has improved a little in the last few days. The cause of this improvement is rather interesting. In the height of their success in pillaging the country all around Djanggiadien and up and down the salt canal, a large body of the robbers quarrelled among themselves as to the division of the spoils.

They finally resorted to arms; and in the fracas, the head bandit of the whole section was killed. The bad blood between the two divisions of the robber clan is holding all of them back from attempting any raids on a large scale. This has quieted down the situation in the country south of here.

A somewhat similar situation has developed west of here. Two boatfuls of bandits out seeking their prey, sighted each other. Without waiting to find out whether the boat held friends or foes, the occupants of the other boat opened fire on it. When the smoke had cleared they found to their consternation that they had killed some of their own confederates, some of them even from the same village, and they had gotten themselves into a situation hard to explain to their neighbors.

Of this complication, the end is not yet, and in the meantime the people are enjoying a little reprieve from the marauding bands.

In all the walled cities and towns in all this section houserents have gone up to three and four times the usual rates, because the men of wealth in all the outlying country territory are bringing their families into the walled cities, and in many instances are coming in themselves, to escape kidnapping by the bandits. In some cases these men leave their property to be pillaged at the will of the marauders, their one purpose being to get themselves into a place of security.

SHANGHAI TO PLAY CAVALRY AGAIN TODAY

Locals Ready For Proper Baseball, Confident Of Winning

GAME SET FOR 3.30

Exhibition Of Shadow Ball Will Precede The Real Game

The Shanghai baseball team is going out to win the third game of the Ninth Cavalry series at the Race Course Diamond this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

They lost their first game with the Manila team Wednesday, when suffering from stage fright or something they stood around while the visitors beat them by a 5-1 score. The cavalrymen had horseshoes with them that day, but they also had the well known indian sign hanging out all over the park with their speed, their style and their confidence.

Thursday Shanghai simply fooled the second game away. They started in the first inning with three back-lot errors which with one lonesome single counted three runs for the Ninth, and they continued their travesty of baseball all through the game, for so many errors that the scorer became ashamed to score more than eight. Eight also was the total of runs that the negroes scored. Shanghai got three over the pan, and needless to say, they earned them.

Local players now feel better. They all have had their off days, and fortunately they all had 'em on Thursday. Shanghai after Thursday's game felt more confident of winning the series than ever, and fans are inclined even yet to root for them, for they know that Wilhoit's men can and do and will play stellar ball when put to it. They are up against it now, they have had their flings at error-making; they are over their stage fright and are ready to play.

Merrill will probably pitch today. It is his turn. He worked in his best form Wednesday and with a fifty-fifty break of baseball luck, and a little support with the stick he would have won his game. Shanghai batsmen should hit in its .300 stride today for the Cavalry pitchers' speed means nothing now to them. They also will field for a perfect score for they made all of their boots Thursday. They can't make any more.

Dennison is reported improving, but will probably not work until Tuesday's game. Terry likely will pitch Sunday. He is going now at his best. It was shameful that Shanghai booted his chances away Thursday. But Terry was a good sport at the loss of his well pitched game. He said it was the off day that comes but once in a long, long while.

Hendrickson will undoubtedly cover third today, for Ladd appears to have lost his arm for the present at least. His inability to get rid of the ball Thursday forced Wilhoit to yank him. Hendrickson made a bad showing when he relieved Ladd but at that he was no worse than his team-mates, and with his fast whip and keen fielding will probably fill the third base hole nicely until Maloney gets back into the game about Tuesday.

Today's game will be preceded by a short exhibition of shadow or pantomine baseball by the Cavalrymen. They go through all the motions of a real baseball game, timed precisely, and executed fully as though a real ball were in play. The exhibition was given in Tientsin and Peking and drew a big hand of applause from the fans. It will pay Shanghai fans to be on time at 3.15 today to see this shadow ball. It will teach one to follow the game, as it should be played.

Y'POO AND J.G.C. BOWL TODAY ON WAYSIDE GREEN

Same Clubs Meet In Semifinal Tomorrow: Big Crowd Will Attend

SCOTLAND MEETS ENGLAND

Latter Match Set For 4 p.m. On The Lawn Bowls Club Greens

BY "THE SHOT"

The Inter-Club match between the Juniors and Yangtszepoo takes place today at Wayside Park when a good game should be the result.

It is a four rink affair and both teams look quite good enough to win, on paper. I notice the Juniors have strengthened their team by the inclusion of wee Wully Crosbie, one of their original members. A jolly good bowler is Wully and what's mair he is one of the few who can talk to the woods with effect.

The Club have an International "affaire de honor" when, the blighted Sassanachs have been invited to take their medicine from the canny lads gang ayant the Tweed. Giving the teams a casual glance over I believe the former will have to take what's comin' to em and say nowt.

Tomorrow should have seen the North and South in conflict, but I understand that so much interest is shown in the semi-final rink game that it has been cancelled in favor of the latter. I trust the Juniors will have plenty of tea and cakes on hand as I understand they are going to have quite a number of visitors to cater for. Friend Crooks will no doubt put his best foot forward, in the matter of having sufficient seats provided for the ladies.

Bob Aitkenhead had an easy victory over Charlie Amner in the singles championship. I think Charlie was a little overawed by the reputation of the redoubtable Bob as he really plays a very pretty game.

For today's interclub match and tomorrow's semi-finals, today at 3:45 p.m., tomorrow at 4 p.m., the following line-up holds good:

Yangtszepoo: — Aitkenhead (skip), Richards, Tweedlie, Bloom; Malcolm (skip), Havtorn, Smith, Taylor; Wilson (skip), Russell, Brown, Lloyd; Smyth (skip), Grieve, Tomlinson, Johnsten.

Reserves:—Bissett, Broadrick, Marshall, Radford.

J. G. C.:—Braid (skip), Stermes, Crosby, Smith; Ross Young (skip), Hayward, Ross, Brewer; Burnside (skip), Spring, Bridger, Raitt; McAlister (skip), Critchley, Marshgreen, Chilvers.

For the England vs. Scotland match at the S.L.B.C. today at 4:

Scotland.—Bell (skip), Bain, Dewar, Irvine; MacCallum (skip), Robertson, Jessiman, Munro; Dunlop (skip), Ross Young, Dowine, Jamie; Macdougall (skip), Turnbull, Davidson, Paton. Reserves: White, McClure.

England. — Banham (skip), Stokes, Gordon Wright, Simmons; Buckley (skip), Manwaring, Reid, Dawson; Harborne (skip), Sheridan, Wheen, Ogden; Crewe-Read (skip), Gorton, Large, Fletcher. Reserves: Taylor, Grundy, Daldy.

HURON HOPES TO PLAY BALL AGAIN HERE THIS FALL

Flagship Strengthened By New Men Look Forward To Games In September

(China Press Correspondence)

Chefoo, Aug. 4.—The flagship Huron will probably be in Shanghai toward the end of the baseball season, and it may be that the ship's team, well known to Shanghai fans may play one or more games there before the snow begins to fly again. The ship it is understood is scheduled for a long cruise, and should be up the Whangpoo between Sept. 20 and Oct 1. The cruise is scheduled to end in December in Manila.

Baseball has been dead here for the last few weeks, through lack of strong opposition. It is hoped however soon to arrange a game with the team off the Chandler, or one of the other destroyers in the 26th Division, or perhaps even the 35th. The latter division includes the following destroyers: Tracy, Smith Thompson, Barker, Borie, John D. Edwards and Whipple, with some good baseball material.

The Huron pitching staff has been strengthened by the return of Knoch who pitched against Shanghai in the first Huron game. He is rated as second only to Weaver in the box, and better than Draper and other twirlers on the staff. Another addition to the ship's baseball talent is Johnson, the big pitcher who worked in the box for the cruiser Helena when that team played Shanghai. He, however, will probably not make the Huron nine.

How To Improve Your Tennis

PRACTICAL ADVICE BY A FAMOUS PLAYER

Get the ball over the net. That is the first thing lawn-tennis players must learn to do properly.

On the other side of net is a piece of ground where the ball may fall and score a point for you. Never forget that that piece of ground is on the other side of the net and not on your side.

Get rid of the idea that the object of lawn tennis is to keep the ball travelling backwards and forwards over the net as long as possible. Finish the rally at the first opportunity; don't prolong it.

There is an idea that it is not sportsmanlike to drop a ball short over the net when your opponent is at the back of the court. This is absurd. The best policy is to place the ball in the part of the court from which your opponent is farthest away.

Remember that to get accuracy of direction you must send your racket after the ball, so to speak. Or, to put it differently, you must follow through in the line of the flight of the ball.

Wrong body and feet position and wrong grip are the reasons why a poor back-hand shot is played. Be sure to keep the racket in a horizontal position. See that the head of the racket is not below the level of the wrist.

The way for a beginner to learn the back-hand stroke is to "stab" it. For this only wrist and fore-arm are used. Later the swing may be lengthened, and finally full use made of the body. It is wonderful what power can be put into a back-hand drive if the player expands her chest and throws back her shoulders at the moment of hitting the ball.

MIX YOUR SERVICE

Keep well back in the court, or, better still, outside the court. The fact that you have to run forward will add force and pace to the shot when you make it. If you are forced to run back, it will detract correspondingly from the strength of your shot.

Lobbing must be "deep"—that is, it must drop near your opponent's base-line—to be effective. The lob is intended to drive your opponent out of his position at the net, and it ought to drive him to the back of his court and give you the chance to advance to the net yourself.

When serving, use your head as well as your racket. Vary the direction of your service. Don't keep putting the ball in the same place. Mix them up well—some across the court to the side-line and some down the center-line. Keep your opponent guessing. Particularly, practise a hard service down the center-line; it is a valuable one.

The ball should be thrown up slightly to the right of the head, to a height of about six feet or a little less. Practise throwing the ball. On the accuracy of this depends the success of your service. As soon as the ball is at the required height, the racket is swung up and over the right shoulder. Without proper timing the service will not be a good one.

Watch the ball. Never take your eyes off it from the moment the service is delivered until it has fallen in the net or out of court. You will find that the more carefully you watch it, the more easily you will be able to guess to what part of your court it is going to be returned. When you have made a return, don't stand still and admire it. Move to that part of the court where your opponent is likely to return the ball.

Think only of the stroke you are playing. Not until you have played one stroke should you begin to think about the next. Concentrate on what you are doing, not on what you are going to do presently. You can only play one stroke at a time. Let the whole energies of your mind and body be put into playing that one stroke.

In learning to volley hold the racket very firm. As you grow in confidence you will increase the swing and the power of your shot. The racket must be held square to the ground—that is, at right angles to it.

BRICK WALL PRACTICE

It is important in both fore-hand and back-hand volleying to keep the wrist so pressed down that the head of the racket is above it, or, at any rate, not below it. If you are to low-volley well, you must go down to the ball by bending knees and body. The low volley played with a hanging racket is not nearly so accurate.

By getting close to the net you volley rising balls instead of the dropping ones you would have to deal with at the back of the court. Nothing is harder to volley than a dropping ball; nothing easier than a rising one. When volleying the latter be sure to volley downwards; near the net this is easy. Played from such a position, it should always be an attacking stroke.

The best way to improve your game is to play against someone who is more adept than yourself,

AUSSIES CLOSE INNINGS WITH KENT FOR 676

Hard Hitting Visitors Bat For Seven And Half Hours For Big Scores

(Reuter's Service)

Canterbury, Aug. 11.—When the match between the Australians and Kent was resumed at Canterbury today it was in fine weather, and the wicket despite yesterday's rain, was fast. The attendance numbered 12,000. The Australians, who had scored 297 for four wickets yesterday in their first innings, were all out for 676. They batted for seven and a-half hours, during which nine bowlers were tried, without, however, affecting the rate of scoring.

Macartney, who was not out overnight, carried his score to 155. He gave a good all-round display, his principal hits being 20 fours.

Gregory contributed 78, Carter 57, and Mayne 157, not out.

Kent had lost two wickets for 40 runs when stumps were drawn. Although the fifth test match begins on Saturday, the present match will be continued tomorrow.

PROBABLES FOR INTERPORT POLO TEAM SELECTED

Players Will Play Match With Rest Of Polo Club This Evening

NEW TOURNAMENT ON TAP

Players Will Be Organised Into Match Play Perhaps For Monday's Games

The four polo men who will probably compose Shanghai's interport team which goes to Hongkong at the end of September or early in October to defend the Keswick challenge cup which Shanghai now holds, were selected yesterday afternoon.

The men are: McMichael (Capt.), Robinson, Brennan and C. C. Boyd.

The probable team as selected yesterday will work together this evening in a practice match against The Club team representing the rest of the Shanghai Polo Club. The players to represent The Club are to be selected on the field tomorrow evening.

This afternoon's match which, by the way is the first real polo match to be played since the conclusion of the Light Horse Intertroop tournament a week ago, is designed to give the probable interport men a working practice at teamwork. There will be others of the same nature to follow, until Capt. McMichael's team is whipped into the strongest possible shape.

At least three and possibly four chukkers will be gone through this evening. Older players are advising that the match be played four chukkers straight, with no other play intervening, so as to accustom the newly selected Shanghai men to the endurance, the maintenance of wind, etc., needed in strong interport cup play, such as they will be put to at Hongkong.

Polo promises better for the coming week than it did for the past. With the B. Class tournament falling through due to sickness or absence of many of the B. Class men, and with the A. Class men marking time, play devolved down to evening pickup matches of a chukker or two, oftentimes with no score resulting. The play however provided good riding and hitting practice and helped considerably in the making of an intelligent selection of the interport team on their present capabilities.

A new tournament is promised for early next week, possibly commencing on Monday. The club has several cups yet to be played for. It only remains to arrange the teams from players who can be depended up to be in port and in condition to play.

The two leading clubs in the City League Tennis tournament of the Shanghai Lawn Tennis Association met in the third round of the schedule yesterday afternoon in what was regarded by many tennis enthusiasts as the key match to the whole tournament. The Portuguese Sporting Association which was leading in the race for the trophy by nine points as compared to the Columbia Country Club's six, maintained its winning pace by defeating the latter four matches to one, thus taking a lead which puts them safe in the standings for several weeks to come.

Other matches played yesterday resulted in the Recs winning four matches to one over the Cricket Club's players, and in the Japanese defeating the Country Club three matches to two.

The majority of followers of the fortunes of the participants in the Tennis League play watched the Portuguese-C.C.C. matches. The former club by strong play in the first two week's matches, which gave them nine wins out of ten matches played is being given much support by tennis fans as the possible winner of the tournament.

The first match, the only one lost by the Portuguese pairs, went to Potts and Roberts in two straight sets 6-4, 6-4. The other four matches were decided for the Portuguese in two sets each.

The Japanese Club played hard for the win over the Country Club. It won the first two matches in three sets each and then lost the third and fourth. The last match however was

COPE IS GOING TIGER HUNTING WITH REVOLVER

Popular Navy Pay Officer Is Succeeded Here By Commander Ransdell

Commander E. H. Cope, who has held the post of Paymaster of the United States Navy for the past several years, is leaving Shanghai today on the French liner Porthos for French Indo-China and will be succeeded by Lieutenant-Commander H. B. Ransdell who recently arrived from Washington, D. C. where he was serving in the Navy department of supply.

Commander Cope who is champion revolver shot of the United States Navy and has captured all trophies for revolver shooting in the Far East since he has been in Shanghai, is going on a big game hunt in Indo-China on his way home and in connection with this he has in mind a purpose altogether unique. He intends, in short, to bag a tiger with his revolver, a thing that has not been done before.

Commander Cope is taking with him besides his camping and medical outfits two Springfield rifles that have been converted into sporting guns, one 40-70 Winchester sporting model, a 45 Smith and Wesson revolver, a 45 automatic and two shot guns.

The hunting trip is to cover a period of 45 days after which Commander Cope will sail from Saigon for the United States. He will go to Trieste by way of Suez and will visit Paris and London before sailing for New York.

FEAR EPIDEMIC MAY SPREAD TO OUTSIDE PORTS

(Reuter's Service)

London, August 11.—In the House of Lords Lord Askwith inquired in connection with the famine in Russia whether measures were being considered to prevent the spread of cholera.

Lord Emmott said that Russia was faced with a terrible catastrophe which would react throughout the world. It was our duty to do our utmost to alleviate the distress.

Lord Macdonnell declared that no government in the world was capable of coping with the calamity which was threatening Eastern Europe. The only available system was the one elaborated in India during his residence there, of which the most important provision was to secure a pure water supply.

He declared that his experiences in India showed that when people were wandering about the country the only method was to establish large famine camps, keeping people there until they could be returned to the villages. He urged the Government to grant thirty to fifty million pounds sterling for the purpose.

Lord Crawford, replying, said that official information from Russia was meagre, but it was clear that the position was one of the utmost danger, involving partial or complete failure of the crops in the middle and lower basins of the Volga.

The Soviet reported twenty-seven thousand cases of cholera. Measures had been taken to keep out the sea-borne cases. All British dominions were fully informed of the situation. The Supreme Council was considering remedial action, which would have to include preventive measures as regards the spread of disease outside of Russia.

How To Improve Your Tennis

but not an opponent who is so much better that you can never manage to win more than one or two games in a set, however hard you try.

Although the best practice is undoubtedly to be obtained by playing in receipt of odds against a better player, that is not the only possible form of practice.

You can get good practice at home by yourself with the aid of a brick wall. Draw a chalk line, about an inch deep, along the wall, three feet three inches from the ground, and take up your stand thirteen or fourteen yards away from it.

Hit balls at the wall, keeping them as near the chalk line as you can but, of course, above it. Except that the ball comes back to you more quickly than it would in actual play from an opponent on the base-line this is excellent practice for base-line driving, which is the backbone of the game.

It is all the better for being rather faster, as it trains you to be quick on your feet, while it is invaluable for training and strengthening your backhand strokes, which are always the weakest spot in a beginner's game—and very often in a strong player's, too.

in relation to articles of food, the quality is of greater relative importance than the price. A smaller quantity of the best quality is, from a health point of view, more beneficial than a large quantity of inferior quality.

Stimulants are suspect now because the war has produced a world shortage of matured spirits. It is better for you to drink one glass of matured spirits than any quantity of immature spirit.

Many lives have been saved by the timely use of good stimulants. Many lives have been lost by the use of bad stimulants.

The Ministry of Finance

In the Matter of Registration of Transfer or Loss of Treasury Bills

NOTICE is hereby given to the public that the Treasury Bills or Promissory Notes issued from time to time by this Ministry in the Chinese or foreign language to the various institutions, banks or foreign firms are of numerous kinds, and it frequently happens that complications arise owing to loss or transfer of such documents by the original holders. Such a state of affairs is detrimental to the circulation of Treasury Bills as well as being injurious to Government credit.

In the Second Year of the Republic (1913), Regulations governing the Registration of Transfer or Loss of Official Salary Treasury Bills were enforced and found to be of great convenience to the holders. Similar Regulations are now to be enforced in regard to all other kinds of Treasury Bills or Promissory Notes, as follows:

(1) In the case of making a transfer of Treasury Bills or Promissory Notes, other than bearer documents, wherein the name of the Payee is specified, the original Payee himself must apply to this Ministry for sanction of the transfer, and such transfer shall become valid only after it has been duly sanctioned by this Ministry. This Ministry will not recognize as valid any transfer made in any other way. In the case of loss of Treasury Bills or Promissory Notes, the original Payee shall report the case to this Ministry and this Ministry will take such action as required by the circumstances.

(2) Unmatured bearer Treasury Bills or Promissory Notes shall not be used to meet payments due to the Government. No application for replacement of lost bearer Treasury Bills or Promissory Notes will be considered.

The above Regulations are enforced for the purpose of protecting the interests of the original holders and facilitating the work of this Ministry in dealing with such matters.

Silk Shipments

Silk shipped per C.P.O.S. liner Empress of Japan from Shanghai on July 16 arrived at New York on Tuesday, August 9:

Cotton

Messrs. J. Spunt and Company state as follows in their cotton market report of today:

China Cotton:—During the week under review there has been practically no demand whatever evolving from the Mills for the local staple either for spot or future deliveries yet prices continued on the whole steady being influenced more or less by the rates thus far firmly maintained at the local Cotton Exchanges.

Prices on Mid-Americans and Indians have also continued more or less steady in its respective original quotations but evinced a rising tendency locally owing to the downward trend in exchange which if continued will materially strengthen the market for the native fibre.

The general apathetic attitude of the spinners toward the native product may have its intended effect as the time for the marketing of the new season crop approaches but very great vigilance should be exercised in the meantime with respect to prices on foreign cotton coupled with fluctuations in exchange. Tone of the market, Steady.

Anglo-American Snags

(New York Times)

ANGLO-AMERICAN relations are, of course, a big question in the minds of all Englishmen. "What is America thinking about England?" is often asked in London. "What chances are there for the creation of a new sort of relationship, a relationship built on the promulgation of peace rather than on the preparation for war?"

A. A. Gardiner, essayist and political journalist, published recently his book—it is little more than a pamphlet—called "The Anglo-American Future" (Thomas Seltzer Publishing Company). The book has had wide circulation, and, with a few exceptions, has been accepted as an expression of the English attitude. The writer asked Mr. Gardiner for an interview. The need for a new and better relationship was conceded. "How is it to be attained?" was the question asked him.

"Get the grit out of the machine," he replied, cryptically. "Get the grit out of the machine. All the talk in the world about a better feeling between England and America will not help a particle until the grit is removed, so that the machine that will build up an Anglo-American future, based on understanding and good feeling rather than international wrangling and military competition, will run without political hitches.

VARIOUS KINDS OF GRIT

"The grit, I regret to say, is all of English make. There is the Japanese grit, the naval grit and the Irish grit. All of them are clogging up the wheels and retarding the progress, not only of the two nations about which we are speaking, but of the entire world. For it is to America and England to which the world must turn today for the solution of its problems, for the formation of new standards, for the creation of new illusions. The war proved that Continental solution of problems, Continental standards, Continental illusions and ideals were not sufficient. They were not real. They didn't work.

"Today the whole world is looking toward America and England to provide the world with a new set of rules for playing the game. We can give them that set of rules, provided we first clear the way for better relationships between our nation and yours.

"Not the least important factor in the Anglo-American future is the clearing up of the Japanese problem. England has had a secret agreement with Japan. That much is known. Will England continue this agreement or formulate a new one? The right-thinking Englishman, the Englishman interested in the peace of the world and the guardianship of that peace by the two great English-speaking nations is most certainly averse to it. He knows that just as soon as an alliance with Japan is made just so soon can he give up the idea of America extending the hand of cooperation to him.

"America willy-nilly has been pulled into the arena of world events. The great war has made a puddle of the Atlantic. It no longer exists as an ocean. Coming over to Europe has ceased to be the adventure of past years. It is a trip undertaken with less preparation than going from one American coast to the other.

"The ocean that really divides the East from the West today is the Pacific. It is there that the eyes of the world are turned. And it is there that future wars will be fought if agreements such as is contemplated between England and Japan are made. America will not stand by without raising a hand when she finds herself surrounded by countries engaged in an alliance to insure each other's strength against other nations. Fear of Japanese aggression is always uppermost in the American's mind. That is something about which the average Englishman seems to be ignorant.

"A Pacific guarded on the one side by Japan, on another by Australia and New Zealand, on still another by Canada, not forgetting, an Atlantic in which England plays no small part, all bound together by an Old World agreement, will hardly be conducive toward the formation or the growth of a new and better feeling between the two great English-speaking countries. England has been jingo in the past, Japan is frankly jingo today, surely it is hardly to be expected that America, placed between them, will look with favor on an alliance between the two.

SHOULD INCLUDE CHINA

"There was a time when Englishmen felt that a treaty with Japan was wholly necessary in order to insure our Asiatic interests against imperial Russia. That time is past. That menace has disappeared. Yet I would not be wholly revolutionary in the overthrow of old ties. If indeed a treaty we must have let it be an honest one. The Anglo-Japanese treaty is fundamentally concerned with China. In that treaty China herself must be included. She is at least as much concerned in her own future as Japan or England. And with China the United States must be a signatory. The legitimate interests of America in the Pacific and the development of China are at least as important as our own or those of Japan, and they have in them no element of privilege such as that whcih vitiates Anglo-Japanese policy.

"Closely aligned with the Japanese question is the naval question. If we are to go on in the old way of competing against each other in militaristic strength, and if, indeed, we concede the fact that the Pacific has been added to the waters as an arena for warfare, it will mean only one thing: England, America and Japan will begin a new vicious race to see which can outbuild the other in naval equipment. 'Two keels for your one' will become the password of each nation. Competition in industry may be good, but competition of this sort is deadly. No nation builds ships for the joy of leading in numbers; it builds subconsciously as well as consciously in preparation for defense. Just as soon as you let the idea of defense get a hold of the brain of a country one outcome sure to follow swift and certain as death is—war. To become the first naval power will mean to prepare to most quickly annihilate another sea power. Nothing is as viciously far-reaching in its results as peaceful preparation carried on in the name of competition.

"Building of ships with an eye to future naval strength can be stopped. It must be stopped if we are to believe that wars can be stopped. America and England, who today stand foremost among the powers of the world, can put an end to future car age by openly stand'ng together in an alliance of friendliness which will brook no competition of the things that make for war. That alliance needs no printed word written by official diplomats; it needs no signature; it needs only the faith and the assurance that each side is playing fair. If America and England will undertake no shipbuilding program no other nation will. And if America and England openly declare themselves interested in the preservation of world peace, and not in world conquest, every nation weary of war will ease up from the state of tension in which it is today living, and turn to the business of reconstructing its domestic interests.

THE IRISH QUESTION

"Yet another thing must be cleared out of the machine before England and America can face each other squarely in an alliance for peace. That is the Irish question. While that is unanswered, our friends in America are helpless. The discord that separates England and Ireland separates Americans. There is no greater hyphenate in the United States than the Irish-American. Until the Irish question is settled Americans cannot say to the Irishmen living in their land: 'Are you Irishmen or are you Americans? Decide for once.'

"America has a large population of Irish. They permeate the nation in every walk of life. They are powerful. Before a politician can formulate his platform he must jolly well consider the Irish strength of his constituency and guide himself accordingly. The word battles that are waged in America on this question are more heated than those waged in England. For all shades of opinion are represented there, while in England we have one shade, or at the most two.

"It can hardly be supposed that the average American likes this state of things, nor that he is grateful to the English or the Irish for injecting their problems into the political life of the nation. They want to see the atmosphere cleared. Their hands are virtually tied until problems which concern a couple of islands three thousand miles away are solved. It is little wonder that they grow impatient with anything and everything that smacks of England or Ireland.

"We English have much to be responsible for in the settling of American domestic questions. It was an English slaver that brought the negro to America for his own profit. It was English policy that depopulated Ireland and sent a nation with bitterness in its heart to disturb the life of America. We cannot cancel the one mischief; but we alone can cancel the other.

"How? That is not a question for me to decide. I can, however, tell you a story about one of your own statesmen who recently came here on a visit to England. He was asked while dining at the home of one of our prominent women how he would settle the Irish question. Dryly, quietly, in true laconic American fashion, he replied: 'Ever since you have had an Irish question you have tried to settle it by giving the Irishman the thing he doesn't want. Why don't you try for a change to give him the thing he does want?' There in a nutshell you have the crux of the matter. We English have always given the Irishman somthing that is a generation late. By the time we have awakened to the justice of his cause of twenty years ago he has in the interim developed a new frame of mind. That which we offer is no longer satisfactory. Just now he wants dominion home rule. I think it would be wise to give it to him.

"One thing more perhaps is necessary. And that is the discarding of secret treaties. I know full well that among the causes of the reaction in the United States against Europe since the war few have played a more unfortunate part than the secret treaties in which we have been involved. It would be well for the Englishman to understand that before we can put Anglo-American relations on a thoroughly sound basis we must discard the artifices of secret diplomacy in all matters that affect, directly or collaterally, our intercourse with the United States."

Correspondence

PRO PATRIA

Editor, THE CHINA PRESS

Sir.—I think it would be a very fine and patriotic action on the part of Irish men and women in Shanghai if they were in some form or other to convey to our countrymen, at home and abroad, how anxiously they are awaiting the result of the present Irish Peace Conference.

We must all feel very sad when we look back on the last year or so and realise the pathetic and Godless state that our poor country has been reduced to, worse in many ways than the war swept regions of France and Belgium, when we think of the homes that have been reduced to ruins by the fires of Anarchy and revenge and of the countless lives that have been lost, in some cases of those near and dear to us.

Yes, I am sure that it has made us all steadfast in the hope that the days of terror and sorrow have passed and that a new future lies before us.

Might I suggest that St. Patrick's Society, in the name of the Irish people of Shanghai, should send cables to Mr. Lloyd George, Sir James Craig and Mr. de Valera and convey to them the great interest we are taking in the present conference and that we are all living in the hope that a lasting settlement may be reached, if not to the complete interest of any one party then for the sake of peace and prosperity in our harassed land.

I notice from the papers that the "Dail Eireann" is to assemble on August 16 and would suggest that the cable to Mr. de Valera be timed to arrive on August 15.

I am, etc.,

FINE IDEA, BUT—

All the world today is talking about disarmaments and the uselessness of weapons designed only for purposes of war. It is not a new theory.

Years ago in a western village in Canada there had been a great deal of shooting. Various cowboys and other setters had become annoyed with sundry of their fellow cowboys and settlers, and had shot them at sight till some bright soul called upon them all to throw away their firearms.

Later this idealist was asked: "And how was your idea of disarmament received at Lone Star Point?"

"The idea," said the originator, "was received with applause."

"And has everybody disarmed?"

"Well, not yet. But everybody says that everybody else can hand in all their revolvers and ammunition, but everyone of the boys said that they would like to see anybody who was man enough to take his gun away from him."

A BERLIN JOKE

The ex-Kaiser does not appear to be the idol with his fellow countrymen that he was before the war. At one time his very name inspired admiration among his subjects. Nowadays he has become the subject for musical hall jokes even in the German capital itself.

The following patter was given by two cross talk comedians—both of German nationality—in one of Berlin's leading vaudeville theaters recently:

"Good evening Hans," said the first comedian, "so you're back from the war?"

"Good evening Fritz," said the second, "Yes I'm back from the war but it took me a long time to get back!"

"I suppose, Hans," continued Fritz, "you must have been the last one to leave?"

"No, Fritz, there is one who isn't home yet."

You can guess who the one referred to is, and the sally received a roar of laughter from the house.

A SALVATION ARMY ROMANCE

Among the many messages of congratulations sent to Captain Louise Kitching, of the Salvation Army, who was married to Captain Edgar Grinstead of the same army, was the following:

There was a young lady named
Kitching, Whom Grinstead found very bewitching,
With music and art
He captured her heart,
And now she'll be doing his stitching.

BOTH ON THE SAME LAY

An amusing sidelight was thrown on American newspaper methods the other day, when Mr. Albert S. Adams, a member of the famous Rotary Club, told the following story:

It seems that in certain parts of the United States, journalists are allowed to travel free "on their card."

Taking advantage of this, a free-lance journalist boldly boarded a train and informed the conductor that he hadn't a card with him, but was on the staff of the Daily Blank.

"Alr right," said the official, "come forward. We've the editor of the Daily Blank aboard, so he can identify you."

There was no turning back, so the impostor followed the conductor, expecting an uncomfortable exposure; but, to his great surprise, the editor, glancing up from his paper, said simply, "Yes, that's right, conductor, he's on my staff."

When the official had departed the free-lance tried to express his gratitude to the great man for his generous falsehood.

"Oh, that's all right, sonny," replied the other. "You see I'm not really the editor of the Daily Blank. I'm on the same lay as yourself."

HOW TO KEEP COOL

Turkish bath owners may sue Weather Bureau for restraint of trade. Yesterday was hotter than devil's kitchen. But it ain't heat so much as stupidity.

Everybody staggering with heat. Thanks to boot-leggers you can even get sunstroke at night. Plebiscite of inhabitants indicates that Summer is still here. Even most conservative element have surrendered their woollen garments to family moths.

Best way to keep cool is to stop thinking. This should be easy for most of us.

Also eat and drink nothing with your meals. At present prices this is easy, too.

Don't worry about increased rent. You can't pay landlord in wrinkles. Remain seated at all times. This advice is exclusively for gentlemen in street cars.

Drink nothing intoxicating if you can't get it. Avoid crowded telephone booths.

Keep your pockets filled with cracked ice at all times.

Bundle up carefully before going out for sleigh ride.

Don't put milk in your coffee. It is bad to mix drinks.

Don't lose your temper if neighbor's children throw snowballs at your high hat. You shouldn't wear high hat.

Swimming lessons aren't necessary at seashore. Take singing lessons, so you can holler for help.

Don't talk pleasantly to any one. Hog porch hammock. Be yourself at all times.

This is good advice. But don't expect results before November or December.

An Aspersion

Little Dorothy aged seven, after calling her mother several times during the night and receiving no reply, said: "Mother, are you really asleep or are you just p'tending that you're a telephone girl?"

All Over The House

BY JOHN P. MEDBURY

There is social rivalry among household utensils the same as there is between human beings. A chafing dish feels very superior, but in reality it's nothing but a frying pan with improvements.

A chafing dish is nothing but a skillet which has worked its way from the kitchen to the living room.

Some of the kitchen utensils may have the swelled head during the day, but they're all equal when they get in the dishpan.

A percolator isn't anything but a coffee pot with extra parts.

It sings the same as an ordinary coffee pot, but it has an accent.

A dustpan sees both sides of life. It works in the parlor and sleeps on the back porch.

The carpet sweeper is the same as the family motor car, only it's driven in the house over the different carpets by a lady chauffeur.

The only difference between a kitchen chair and a parlor chair is that a policeman sits in one and a banker sits in the other.

An armchair is called Morris in an ordinary neighborhood, but when it moves up on Fifth avenue it changes its name to Maurice.

There's usually a cuckoo clock in the hall. A cuckoo is nothing but an alarm clock which took singing lessons.

The cuckoo wakes the family up and the alarm clock calls the cook.

The family sleeps on the second floor and the cook sleeps in the attic. It seems to be that the higher you sleep the earlier you have to get up.

Of course the nearer the roof you sleep the longer it takes you to get downstairs.

Then there are the door mats, one at the front door and one at the back. If you're lucky enough to be the one at the front you'll have millionarires wipe their feet on you, otherwise you've got to be satisfied with being walked on by the butcher and the grocery man.

It is wise for the household utensils not to get stuck up. You may be a beautiful linen duster today and a dish rag tomorrow.

The Difference

All up and down the roads of life
They've called to me with eyes of love,
Looking to their separate ends,
Seeking always something—
Sally wanted violets, Lucile liked to motor,
Mary loved to dine and sup, Margaret dance and chatter;
Clothes of shimmering silk were all that appealed to Ethel;
Candies sweetened Emily's mood,
Mabel needed coddling.
One and all they called to me,
One and all they wanted,
And to each and all of them
I've given what they wanted.

Then came she who wanted not,
asked not even loving—
And still I spread my heart each day in bright array before her;
She only laughed—but once her eyes grew wet—
She said I had nothing to give.

TEXACO CRATER COMPOUND
The Great Gear Lubricant

Texaco Crater Compound is a special lubricant for heavy gears and wire rope. It preserves gears; shields them from dust and dirt, prevents friction, and eliminates machinery noise. Use "Crater" on all heavy gears working under conditions of extreme pressure. It clings to gear teeth when nothing else will, but is fluid enough to allow free lubrication.

As a preservative for wire rope and chains, Texaco Crater Compound is invaluable. It forms a film of lubricant which protects from the action of weather, chemical fumes and contaminated water.

Wire rope and chains coated with "Crater" will last twice as long.

Gears lubricated with it will work noiselessly and more efficiently.

WHY THE DANCE WAS POSTPONED

(China Press Correspondence)

Chefoo, August 6.—Tonight the postponed dance is to be held on the Huron. Residents are invited by the officers of the flagship to attend the function. It was to have been held on Wednesday, but the weather then was too unsuitable for anything of the sort. All day it blew hard and there must have been bad typhoon in the vicinity. Ships did not venture out till the next morning when the storm had abated.

The rain was torrential all the day while the wind was most powerful. However, the Bund is now strong enough to resist the forces of the waves and beyond the falling of a few trees and the disappearance of some rowing boats, since found, there was nothing serious in the way of damage done.

But the storm was one of the severest we have experienced and it was quite out of the question to hold the dance. It would have been impossible to have got the guests out to the ship for the sea was very rough. The weather was exactly like what is experienced when the break up storm occurs.

MOSCOW OPERA ATTRACTS

That and Ballet Are People's Chief Diversion

Helsingfors, June 11.—The chief diversion of the people in Moscow is the opera and ballet, say persons who have just come out of Russia.

Exquisite performances are given by singers and dancers, many of whom are highly educated and receive 50,000 rubles a night. Tickets for seats are ostensibly free, but are unobtainable without a "pull" or emoluments for subordinates. Motion picture programs are devoted chiefly to propaganda.
